The City of Norman is pleased to announce the hiring of Mr. Terry Floyd as the new Development Coordinator. Mr. Floyd will be responsible for the development coordination and implementation of business and land development plans, procedures, and programs of the City. He will work with developers, contractors, engineers, architects and community groups to explain and interpret the City's design requirements, codes, processes, and act as an ombudsman for development issues. Other duties include assisting in the resolution of customer service complaints and technical issues, respond to inquiries regarding technical codes and development and inspection processes to citizens.

Mr. Floyd is currently the Community Services Director with the City of El Reno, Oklahoma. Previously he was the Public Information Officer/Grant Writer in El Reno.

“After an extensive search, we are very pleased to announce the appointment of Terry Floyd as Development Coordinator for the City of Norman”, said City Manager Steve Lewis. “Terry brings solid experience to act as a liaison for the City in the identification and resolution of problems or questions relating to development and redevelopment activities. We look forward to welcoming him to Norman.”

Floyd is excited about his role with the City of Norman, adding, “I’m looking forward to joining the City of Norman and being a part of its continued growth and success.”

Floyd has a Bachelor of Science Degree in Mass Communications from Northwestern Oklahoma State and is working on a graduate degree in Mass Communications. He will begin his new position on March 26, 2012.
