Dave Schwartz with Waters Edge Aquatic Design outlined the focus of the workshop. The three items to be discussed were voting features summary to date, facility sustainability and initial concepts.

Nick Hamill with Waters Edge reviewed a spreadsheet which showed how the feature voting stood at this point. Additional public input and the ability to vote for features will be solicited through e-mail, Facebook and signs.

Jeff Bartley with Waters Edge discussed with the group facility sustainability and what features generated the most attendance at 4 benchmark facilities. He interviewed these 4 facilities and shared with the group their responses on items such as what they felt was their draw feature and what other features they would like to add or change.

Dave Schwartz reviewed with the group some initial design concepts showing what a possible facility could look like based on the Westwood footprint and funding available.
